TOBACCO CROP FOR THIS YEAR A RECORD-BREAKER

Official Estimate of 1918 Yield Indicates Increase—Favorable Conditions at Harvest.

Unless all natural deductions are made the tobacco crop of the United States just harvested has been a record-breaker. Official statistics of the Bureau of Crop Estimates, Washington, D. C., showing the condition prevailing in the various tobacco-growing states on October 1, indicate a general average of 78.4 per cent., which was an increase over the condition of September 1, 1918, of 5 per cent. The nearest approach to the estimated production for 1918, as shown in the appended table, was last year, when the final estimates indicated a yield of 1,196,451,000 pounds. This an increase of 68,911,000 pounds, or almost 6 per cent., is indicated in the current year's crop. It is interesting to note that while the 1918 crop is probably the largest ever harvested, the annual yield in this country has increased steadily for the past six years, but prior to 1914, has exceeded the billion-pound mark but twice, in 1909 and 1910.

Practically every producing center showed favorable conditions at the close of the growing season. Wisconsin, which produces a type peculiar to itself, had one of the best seasons in its history, and recorded 100 per cent. on October 1. The New England states were also high in the list, with three averaging 98 per cent. and one 99 per cent. A vast improvement in the burley belt of Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia was made during the month of September, and the condition in each on October 1 made an advance of 7, 8, 9 and 5 per cent., respectively.

While by the figures for the current year in the production of Kentucky, in comparison with the final estimate of the 1917 crop, this falling off was more than offset by gains of 35,694,000 pounds and 32,872,000 pounds in North Carolina and West Virginia, respectively. Other large producers which are ahead of last year are Ohio, with an apparent increase of 13,291,000 pounds; Wisconsin, 30,048,000 pounds; South Carolina, 13,041,000 pounds; Pennsylvania, 8,184,000 pounds; Connecticut, 10,286,000 pounds.

WINS SONG CONTEST

The song contest conducted by the state publicity headquarters of the United War Work Campaign was won by Miss Nannie G. Heard, of Louisville, Ky., a young colored woman. Miss Board is a graduate of the Louisville high school, Howard University at Washington, D. C., and is at present teaching in the Agricultural and Industrial Institute at Nashville, Tenn., although, of course, Louisville is her home.

There were many compositions from all parts of the state and the judges worked hard to pick the winner. The judges were John Dwight Sample, Mrs. Katherine Whipple-Dobbs, and Chester Solomon, of Louisville. Miss Board's composition was forwarded immediately to Chicago to take part in the Central Department contest.

1,651 C. & D. MEN ARE ON SICK LIST

Influenza patients among the Chesapeake & Ohio employees on the Huntington division are decreasing. Last Saturday there were 349 reported ill and yesterday 306.

There were 1,651 employees on the western general division off duty yesterday. Cincinnati had the largest number, 518, and Hinton the fewest. The Logan division has a sick list of 249.

Word has been received here of the death of George, the thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Binzel, at their home in Bowling Green, Wednesday. Mr. Binzel was at one time the popular agent of the L. & N. in this city.

Captain C. M. Plister yesterday sold some of his floating property at the landing here and had one piece transferred to the Ohio side. He left this afternoon for his home in Linden, Gallia county, Ohio.

Mrs. Thomas M. Russell arrived home yesterday from Sewanee, Tenn., where she had been called by the illness of her son, Milton, who has recovered. He had a severe attack of influenza.

The remains of Private Yancey Smith of Shannon, who died Monday at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., arrived here today and were taken to his home in the county. He was 25 years of age.

In the County Court Messrs. George Ellet, Patrick Gantley and Patrick O'Neal were appointed appraisers of the personal estate of Mrs. Kate Driscoll.

ALLIES STILL POUNDING THE DESPERATE HUNS

Gains Have Been Made All Along a Large Front—Americans in Thick of It.

London, October 24—The attack was resumed this morning on the whole front between the Sambre-Oise Canal and the Scheidt, Field Marshal Haig announced.

Continuing their progress on this front yesterday evening, British troops crossed the Escaillon River less than two miles west of Le Quesnoy, capturing the village of Beaudignies. The villages of Neuville and Salesches also were occupied.

A strong German counter-attack opposite Vendegies was repulsed.

Raismes Forest, north of Valenciennes, was cleared of the enemy and three villages were captured in that region. There was local fighting west of Tournai without material change.

Enemy Retreats in Night

With the British Armies in France, October 24—The new drive between the Scheidt and the Sambre is expected to have wide results, the most important of which will be the complete turning of the Valenciennes line.

On the front from Valenciennes northward to the frontier of Holland, German resistance is stiffening.

British patrols have managed to push across the Scheidt at several places north of Tournai.

Although the strongest opposition since the enemy withdrawal began was looked for south of Valenciennes, there are no signs so far of any great defensive preparations beyond slender, new trench and wire systems.

The Germans are relying largely upon the strong, natural positions behind the canal and the Raismes Forest and the flooded area between Donal and Valenciennes.

During the past four days the Germans have withdrawn about three kilometers—two miles—every night, after holding on all day, the British at daybreak occupying the abandoned ground and resuming their pressure.

An example of the forces preying on the minds of the German troops is found in a letter which a captured private received from his brother in Hamburg, written October 12.

The letter reiterates five times that peace is certain within a few days and urges the soldier to surrender or avoid death in some other way. He surrendered to the Americans near Hazuel.

Belgium Fight Shows Up

London, October 24—British troops with American co-operating, are continuing their advance on a front of nearly 20 miles, south of Valenciennes according to the latest reports received here.

A penetration of nearly four miles was made at some points yesterday. They carried their lines to within two miles of the western edge of the Mormal Forest, which forms the principal western defense of the great fortress city of Maubeuge, and were within less than four miles of the railway center of Le Quesnoy.

The fighting in Belgium resulted in diminished allied progress, owing to the stiffening German resistance. Capture of Encreghem, seven miles northwest of Audenarde, was the only important success gained.

Yanks Advance Through Fire

London, October 24—A Times correspondent with the American forces says in a despatch to his newspaper today that it would be difficult to exaggerate the violence of the opposition which the First American Army is meeting between the Meuse and the Argonne.

"Indeed, slow as the progress is," he writes, "it is quite remarkable when all the circumstances are taken into consideration."

"Little by little the American divisions are pushing forward, and both at Grandpre and east of Landres they can fairly be said to have breached the Kriemhilde position."

"On the left of the American front around Grandpre there is constant heavy artillery firing and vicious machine gun resistance."

"More to the right Remagne, Souv, Montfaucon, Chamel, Clorges and Montfils are kept continually under heavy bombardment by the enemy, who is using a good deal of gas along the runs behind the American lines."

"On the east bank of the Meuse there is greater infantry activity and enemy patrols are continually harassing and counter-attacking. It is quite evident that Ludendorff and the German general staff have ordered this part of the line to be held at all costs and that reinforcements are continually being thrown in against the Americans."

Mr. David Dickson is ill at his home in the county with the influenza.

REV. FREDERICK T. KELLEY DIES AT AUGUSTA

Rev. Frederick T. Kelley, aged 43 years, passed away at his home in Augusta on Thursday last week, after an illness of one year's duration from a complication of ailments.

In September, 1917, Rev. Kelley was sent there by the Methodist Conference as pastor of Trinity church, and was there but a few weeks when taken ill. He was taken to Christ hospital, Cincinnati, where he remained under the care of some of the best physicians for several weeks, his malady being diagnosed as an enlarged artery near the heart, and to operate meant instant death, but with no hope of recovery.

Rev. Kelley was taken back to his home, gradually growing weaker until death relieved him of his suffering.

Before he was fatally stricken and was confined to his home, Rev. Kelley made a most favorable impression upon all those with whom he came in contact. Before going to Augusta he was stationed at Somerset.

Deceased is survived by his wife and two daughters, Sarah and Miriam, who have the sympathy of all.

Funeral services were conducted at the home Friday afternoon, Dr. Cochran officiating, and on the early train Saturday morning, Mrs. Kelley and mother and two daughters, accompanied by Dr. Laughlin, who represented the Masons, were taken to Barbourville where the deceased had expressed a desire to be laid to rest.

TO MAYSVILLE AND MASON COUNTY CHILDREN

Here's a Chance For the Boys and Girls of This City and County to Do Something Worth While.

Every boy and girl in Kentucky is eager to help win this war. Here is a splendid chance to join with all the boys and girls in the United States in pulling for victory.

The United War Work Campaign to be held the week of November 11 is to raise money to carry on the work of seven organizations among our soldiers and sailors over there and over here. The seven are: The Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the National Catholic War Council, the Jewish Welfare Board, the War Camp Community Service, the American Library Association, and the Salvation Army. They united at the earnest suggestion of President Wilson.

Every boy and every girl in Kentucky between the ages of 12 and 20 is asked to EARN AND GIVE $5 to this great national fund of $170,500,000. The boys will be enrolled as "Victory Boys" and the girls as "Victory Girls."

To arouse interest in this great movement, boys and girls of Kentucky are invited to compete in an essay contest. The best Kentucky essay in each case will be forwarded to Chicago to compete with the best essays from the thirteen other states of the Control Department—Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado.

The judges in Kentucky will be very prominent educators. The boy and the girl winning in this state will receive $5.00 each. The boy and the girl winning in the Central Department contest will receive $10.00 each. State winners will be announced early in the campaign.

Get busy at once, boys and girls of Kentucky. Prepare your essay and be sure it contains only 500 words, or less. The subjects are, "The Work of Any One of the Seven Organizations," "How a Boy Can Earn and Give Five Dollars," "How a Girl Can Earn and Give Five Dollars," or any other topic bearing on the campaign. Then send it to the following address: "Victory Boys' Contest" or "Victory Girls' Contest," 643 S. Fourth street, Louisville, Ky., the State headquarters of the United War Work Campaign.

This contest is open to all.

KENTUCKY MADE RECORD SHIPMENTS OF LAMBS

More Even Distribution of Sheep Is Expected to Prevent Drop in Prices Next Year.

Government statistics for the Nashville and Louisville livestock market show that over 2,000 decks of lambs were received at these two markets alone from the States of Kentucky and Tennessee during the run of the present year. This summer Tennessee breeders sent to Idaho for a car of big healthy Hampshire rams to help make the next year's lamb crop better than ever. Ewes by the double deck are being brought into both States, and it is predicted that the lamb run from these two States will be heavier next spring than ever before.

Brought over much of the range country of the West caused such a run that lamb markets broke nearly $2 recently, and it is reported that fewer ewes will be wintered in the West than for several years. This means that the farm flocks must make up for the decrease, and Tennessee is going in for a large share of the advantage.

With sheep more evenly distributed over the country and more coming early in the season, such runs as the one that recently broke the market may be averted and a more uniformly high price realized by the growers. It looks as if no State could get a lamb ready for market earlier in the spring than Louisiana, and that this State ought to be warming up the market with shipments of fat lambs before Tennessee and Kentucky.

It is said that Louisiana has 200,000 sheep now.

FUR AND INFLUENZA

In order to explain the widespread epidemic, people are trying to connect up the influenza with various influences. Everybody has a pet cause—and cure, too, of course. The Germans are most frequently mentioned in the cause line; and, while we would not eliminate them from our own list, our particular and pet influenza cause for this locality is—fur—fur and high coat collars.

Any day in walking down Second street you may notice that the majority of the women are wearing fur scarfs (just as they do in midsummer); and that large numbers, too, wear long coats, whose collars wrap the throat and neck 'way up to the chin. And these beautiful, golden, mellow Indian summer days are the kindest in the whole year. We have no need to fear the air; and we have every need to court the sunshine. Throats that are wrapped up now will be in no condition to resist sudden drafts, or the evening chill, to say nothing of the winter cold. Women should no more think of bundling up now than the men would of wearing mufflers. The women have a distinct advantage, if they will only take it. For styles permit them, if they wish, to leave the throat completely exposed to the sun and air; and they should so elect and thus toughen themselves for winter and avoid sore throats.

PRO-GERMAN EDUCATION

The United States commissioner of education, Mr. Claxton, is reported to favor German in the schools. To what extent it doesn't appear. But that makes no difference. The man who wants German in our schools, even a little bit, has no business in public position. He doesn't know what education is, and certainly he doesn't know what true Americanism is. There is a certain class of educators who so worship knowledge that they think any kind of it is desirable, and yet it often stands in the way of a real education, by perverting the imagination and the vision to the merest commonplace in life, where materialism, vanity and appetite control the destiny of the pupil. To prevent that is the purpose of public education, but that purpose, under the weight of a professional incubus, like we have at Washington and elsewhere, is defeating itself. It is, in fact, more a policy of extravagance than of education. Mr. Claxton should go. A man who knows so little of education as to think German is essential to it, has no business with our common schools.

Governor Stanley is another man who says German shall be taught in the public schools. But the voters will attend to his case at the November election.

IN NINE MONTHS

Charles Edward Russell, the great Socialist and student of human affairs, says we are on the last lap of the war. Nine months more will see the end of the whole thing; but there must be a relentless pushing of the war through these nine months—no monkeying with armistices, peace proposals or diplomatic confabs. The allies have it in their hands to whip Germany well and good in nine months and they are going to do it. That Prussian dynasty will have to give up and get out and take with it its military autocracy and divinity of kings. There will no treaty to leave a bit of these standing and it is an insult to our brave soldiers to think that such a thing is possible. This German kultur is wretched, inhuman, and cruel and there must not be a trace of it left on the globe. In nine months comes our next Fourth of July. Then we will celebrate. Then we will celebrate. That is, if you do your duty toward helping to win the war.

It is not true that the Kaiser has reached the end of his rope. When he does that, his feet will lack about four or five feet of reaching the ground.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royse City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary, Kilb, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl, my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

EMERGENCY BUREAU TO ASSIST CIVILIAN COMMUNITIES

In Fighting Influenza Have Been Established—Work All Ready Begun In This State.

Emergency bureau to assist civilian communities and state boards of health in combating the influenza epidemic are to be immediately established at Columbus, Indianapolis and Louisville by the Lake Division Red Cross Committee on Influenza.

This was decided at Lake Division Headquarters, Cleveland, at a conference to which representatives of the state boards of health of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky had been sent in response to an invitation from Division Manager R. F. Bourne.

The Lake Division, in the past two weeks, has assigned hundreds of nurses to military camps as well as cities and towns stricken with the epidemic, but it was determined at the conference that the increased need for nurses and the necessity for promptly assigning nurses to influenza work could be more effectively carried out by setting up emergency bureaus in each state.

These state emergency bureaus, according to a recommendation adopted at the conference, will "search out every agency through which nurses can be secured and who can be released from other duties." They are to use all measures at their command to convince nurses, now engaged in private work, to make a sacrifice, if necessary, in order to assist in the fight against the disease. The bureaus will make every effort to secure widest possible publicity of the existing need for nurses for this work.

The hope was expressed at the conference that nurses could be made to see that nursing civilians ill with influenza is just as important a patriotic and Red Cross duty as nursing soldiers and sailors. It was also pointed out that many civilians are retaining so called "luxury nurses" which could easily be spared to assist in the present emergency.

Dr. McCormick, representing the Kentucky Board of Health, stated that school teachers are being used as nurses in that state.

No nurse will be assigned to influenza work except upon the request of the public health officer of the state, who will receive applications for nurses from the local health officer. The Red Cross state emergency bureaus will pay nurses, assigned upon the request of the public health officer, the authorized salary and expenses. Additional compensation, if any, in this emergency is to be paid by state boards of health or by local Red Cross chapters.

The conference brought out clearly the fact that civilian communities and local Red Cross chapters should exhaust their own resources before appealing for outside help, due to the tremendous drain upon the nursing and medical forces.

A. F. Bentley, assistant manager for the Lake Division in Indiana, was named to take charge of the emergency bureau at Indianapolis and R. C. Ballard Thurnston, assistant manager for the Lake Division for Kentucky, was appointed to head the emergency bureau at Louisville. Appointment of a man to head the emergency bureau at Columbus will probably be made tomorrow.

In facing the foe a fellow never does double service by being two-faced.

SAVE YOUR HAT; FEWER STRAWS NEXT SUMMER

Washington, D. C.—Save your old straw hat for next summer. It may come in handy if you are not called on by the government to wear a tin hat by the time another summer rolls around.

This is the advice of the war industries board, which announces it is the intention of the government to curtail the output of straw hats to a point where the production will meet only the essential needs of the civil population.

"The industry is asked to consider the problem in the light of war conditions," said Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the war industries board, "and cooperation is urged as of assistance in the entire industrial reorganization made necessary by requirements of the war program. The conservation division, to this end, has prepared a conservation program for the manufacturers of men's straw hats, restricting the styles, height, width of brim, and trimmings."

SEEING THE SIGNS

Geneva, October 23 — Peace must not be delayed on account of the Hohenzollerns if they are an obstacle to it, declares the Volks Freund, of Karlsruhe, which also is permitted to speak of the disappearance of the superstitious belief that the Emperor was chosen to rule by divine right.

The Schwabische Tagblatt says everybody is convinced the allies will not accord Germany a cheap peace, "but if the glory and power of Imperial Germany is the price, the German people are ready to pay."

In permitting such items to leave Germany the German censorship apparently is preparing public opinion for coming events.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervous system disappeared.

EX-GOVERNOR HOARD

Of Wisconsin says: "We fully appreciate that there is no necessity for two or three cream stations in one city, and that a cream station is unnecessary where a creamery is properly serving the farmers. We most heartily believe that farmers should build their own co-operative creameries and operate them on business-like principles. The cream buying station can not pay as much for fat as a well patronized and properly operated creamery. We believe, too, that the farmer who leaves his co-operative creamery to sell cream to a local cream station is working against his own interest and in time will be led to see his mistake."

TWIN BOYS FLEE RUSSIA; REACH MOTHER IN U. S.

Sons of Late General Ivanoff Near
End of Long Trip of Danger.

San Francisco, Cal. — A romance from out of the Russian debacle centered here recently with the arrival of two handsome, stalwart, well dressed, and educated Russian twin boys of 10 years of age, who are hastening to be reunited to their mother in Los Angeles after a long separation and heart breaking absence.

Masters Andrew and Nicholas Masoodoff Ivanoff are the "boys' names. The Russian general, Masoodoff Ivanoff, who served under the famous Gen. Alexei Brusiloff on the southwestern front, was their father. He was assassinated in the first disorders attending the breaking up of the Russian armies.

Their widowed mother, who had been the famous "Mlle. Souvorina" of the Russian Imperial ballet, fled with her twins from the family's beautiful town house at Petrograd to Japan, despoiled of all her wealth but some valuable furs and jewels she hastily gathered together on the eve of her 5,000 mile flight to Tokyo.

Leaving her boys with friends in Japan, the mother availed herself of an opportunity to go to southern California and make a home for them. This she succeeded in doing and then sent for them.

For a long time she failed to hear of her sons, and, fearing for their safety, she implored Secretary of State Lansing and Russian Ambassador Bakmetieff at Washington, D. C.

Lee Hagood of the General Electric company of Schenectady, N. Y., who was in Russia three years and who left Petrograd, on March 10 last brought them from Japan and is taking them to Los Angeles.

Of the Pavlova ballet school of Russia, their mother was in the height of a dancing career in Petrograd when she married Gen. Ivanoff. Theirs was a brilliant wedding, for the then young woman belonged to the Souvorina family that was powerful in journalism and banking. Her father owned the Petrograd daily newspaper Novaya Vremya. The Bolsheviks seized ed the latter paper, but eventually it is hoped it will be restored, together with other property, to the twins and their mother.

The mother fled with $60,000 worth of furs and jewelry, but had hardly any available money. Most of the furs and jewels were stolen from her en route over the Trans-Siberian road and in Siberia at the border. In Japan she had to place much of what was left in pawn in order to have her boys cared for and to pay her way to this country and arrange for them to follow her.

They had seen some awful things done in the wild times at Petrograd and women had been killed in the streets and they had seen little boys and girls with their hands and arms shot away. They were nineteen days crossing the Trans-Siberian road, and often they were questioned and searched by rough soldiers.

Mr. Hagood said he was glad to be able to bring the boys to this city with him, so that they could join their mother, for he knew she must have been distracted over their long separation.

The day he left Petrograd, which was March 10 last, a rather plain dinner cost him 40 rubles, or $20 in American money. He brought to Japan important state papers from Ambassador Franchet to Secretary Lansing.

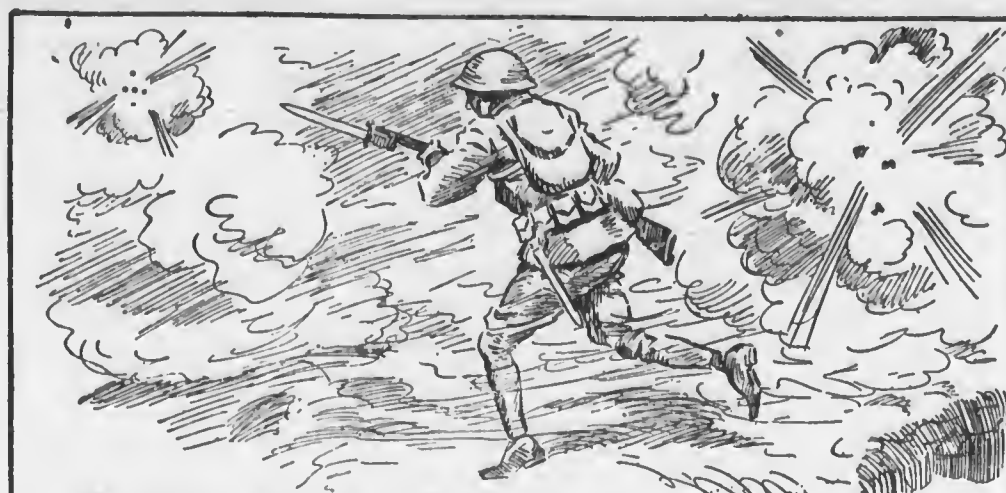

"Franchet told me," said Hagood, "he was going to stay in Russia until the Germans forced him out."

"There was great suffering in Petrograd when I left and one could see many red-headed women on the streets selling newspapers for an existence. Personally I was never molested and went about my business freely. I stayed there as long as I thought it was safe to do so."

HELP WHEN SEE YANK'S PICTURE

ST. QUENTIN IS HISTORIC CITY CENTURIES OLD

Paris.—Before the war St. Quentin was one of the most prosperous manufacturing towns in northern France. Its population was over 50,000. Located on the right bank of the Somme and connected by a network of canals with the Scheldt and the Rhine, St. Quentin was always an active shipping center, carrying on trade in building materials, coal, timber, iron, sugar and agricultural produce.

St. Quentin has always been a favored port of call for tourists, containing as it did before the war historic examples of early art and architecture, especially the Collegiate church of St. Quentin, one of the finest Gothic buildings, erected during the twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, in the north of France.

Another famous landmark of St. Quentin, known to nearly every American who ever visited France, is the fourteenth century Hotel de Ville.

Historically, St. Quentin has been the center of many great military campaigns. It stood at the meeting place of five military roads. Here back in the third century Galus Quatinius became a martyr for Christianity.

Three different times the town was captured by the Normans. Then, in 883, it was surrounded by huge walls. From 1420 to 1471 St. Quentin was occupied by the Burgundians. In 1557 it was taken by the Spaniards. It was restored to the French in 1560.

On October 8, 1870, during the Franco-Prussian war, St. Quentin resolutely withstood wave after wave of attacking Germans. In January of the following year St. Quentin was again the goal for which the great armies of Germany and France fought. This time the Germans, under Gen. von Goeben, after fighting of a most sanguinary nature which lasted for hours, finally succeeded in accomplishing a decisive victory over the French army under Gen. Faldherbe. So complete was the German triumph that the general armistice ending the war was signed ten days later.

St. Quentin fell into German hands in the present war in August, 1914.

Dr. J. M. Hooper, of Berry, Harrison county, died of Spanish influenza and pneumonia after a brief illness. Dr. Hooper volunteered for army work and was at the base hospital at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., but owing to failing health was given an honorable discharge last month and sent home. He is survived by his widow and one daughter.

DOWN-AND-OUTERS

When the South End of Boston deteriorated and the congregation of the Morgan Memorial Church began to move away, Dr. Edgar G. Helms saw around him men and women kept from self-respecting work by drink or drugs. He made their problem his. Dr. Helms is pre-eminently practical. His "scientific reconstruction of bums" is not based on mere emotion. It is the result of study. It uses the most modern methods. Not only is there a mission to save men, but also a job at the Morgan Memorial Industries and a home at the Settlement to keep them saved. Their physical welfare is in charge of a medical expert. Their mental state is looked after by a psychologist who tries to fit every man with a job.

The men are usually brought in from the streets half starved, or intoxicated, and taken to the Seavey Settlement, where the doctor examines them for contagious diseases. If they pass the test they are given a bath and clean bed clothes.

"There's lots of religion in a clean night-shirt," one of the assistants declared.

While they sleep, their clothing is fumigated, a process repeated for five successive nights. The roomitory for those "first-nighters" is a great room of double-decker beds.

In the morning come breakfast and a shave. Then those who wish may have a job at the Industries and a chance of staying in the Settlement to fight alcohol and make good. More than 500 destitute men are cared for each year. Of these more than 10 per cent are completely regenerated, practically double the average of most missions.

Assistant Attorney General John Lord O'Brien said there are nearly 500,000 German and 2,000,000 Austrian subjects in this country.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Maysville Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are weak. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Weak kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, suggest weak kidneys and warn you of the danger of dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. In that case Doan's Kidney Pills have been endorsed by thousands. Here is a statement of a nearby resident:

Jas. M. Newton, Gum, St., Aberdeen, Ohio, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years and have been greatly benefited. Whenever my back has been weak or when my kidneys have been too frequent in action, I have used a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Wood & Son's Drug Store. They have always relieved me in a short time."

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Newton is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Newton had. 60c all stores. ### FOOD FACTS AND INFLUENZA

Eating any particular kind of food will not give one the influenza. There is nothing in any food itself to foster the disease, but without proper care foods may serve as carriers of the germs. Unwrapped bread, for instance, may carry the germs to your door. Fruit skins may be covered with bacteria. Bakery products exposed to the air and handled carelessly by salesmen, who take no sanitary precautions, may be the source of some one's serious illness. Your maid, if she does not wash and seal the dishes properly, may be the cause of your downfall. Your cook, if she tastes and stirs with the same spoon, is a treacherous, albeit perhaps a well-intentioned, person to have around. Know that your milkman is an honest and a sanitary man. Try to eat at restaurants which have been inspected and pronounced safe.

After you have taken these precautions, watch yourself and your diet. Now is the time to keep yourself in good health. You owe it to your physical efficiency at the highest possible pitch. See that you are getting plenty of bulky foods, green stuffs, fruits and vegetables. Remember that clean milk is one of the best friends you can have in the whole world of foods.

TEXT OF PRES. WILSON'S REPLY TO GERMAN NOTE

"Surrender and Give Up Your Guns" Is What the United States Demands.

Washington, October 23.—The text of President Wilson's reply to Germany follows:

"From the Secretary of State to Charge d'Affaires ad Interim in charge of German Interests in the United States:

"Department of State, October 23, 1918.
"Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 22d, transmitting a communication under date of the 20th, from the German Government, and to advise you that the President has instructed me to reply thereto as follows:

"Having received the solemn and explicit assurance of the German Government that it unreservedly accepts the terms of peace laid down in his address to the Congress of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and the principles of settlement enunciated in his subsequent addresses, particularly the address of the 27th of September, and that it desires to discuss the details of their application, and that this wish and purpose emanated not from those who have hitherto distated German policy and conducted the present war on Germany's behalf, but from Ministers who speak for the majority of the Reichstag and for an overwhelming majority of the German people, and having received also the explicit promise of the present German Government that the humane rules of civilized warfare will be observed both in land and sea by the German armed forces, the President of the United States feels that he cannot decline to take up with the Governments with which the United States is associated the question of an armistice.

"He deems it his duty to say again, however, that the only armistice he would feel justified in submitting for consideration would be one which should leave the United States and the power associated with her in a position to enforce any arrangements that may be entered into, and to make a renewal of hostilities on the part of Germany impossible.

"The President, therefore, has transmitted his correspondence with the present German authorities to the Governments with which the Government of the United States is associated as a belligerent, with the suggestion that, if these Governments are disposed to effect peace upon the terms and principles indicated, their military advisers and the military advisers of the United States shall be asked to submit to the Governments associated against Germany the necessary terms of such an armistice as will fully protect the interests of the peoples involved and insure to the associated Governments the unrestricted power to safeguard and enforce the details of the peace to which the German Government has agreed, provided they deem such an armistice possible from a military point of view. Should such terms of armistice be suggested, their acceptance by Germany will afford the best concrete evidence of her unequivocal acceptance of the terms and principles of peace from which the whole action proceeds.

"The President would deem himself lacking in candor did he not point out in the frankest possible terms the reason why extraordinary safeguards must be demanded. Significant and important as the constitutional changes seem to be which are spoken of by the German Foreign Secretary in his note of the 20th of October, it does not appear that the principle of a Government, responsible to the German people, has yet been fully worked out, or that any guarantees either exist or are in contemplation that the alterations of principle and of practice now partially agreed upon will be permanent.

"Moreover, it does not appear that the heart of the present difficulty has been reached. It may be that future wars have been brought under the control of the German people, but the present war has not been; and it is with the present war that we are dealing.

"It is evident that the German people have no means of commanding the acquiescence of the military authorities of the empire in the popular will; that the power of the King of Prussia to control the policy of the empire is unimpaired; that the determining initiative still remains with those who have hitherto been the masters of Germany.

"Feeling that the whole peace of the world depends now on plain speaking and straightforward action, the President deems it his duty to say, without any attempt to soften what may seem harsh words, that the nations of the world do not and cannot trust the word of those who have hitherto been the masters of German policy, and to point out once more that in concluding peace and attempting to undo the infinite injuries and injustices of this war the Government of the United States cannot deal with any but veritable representatives of the German people who have been assured of a genuine constitutional standing as the real rulers of Germany.

"If it must deal with the military masters and the monarchial autocrats of Germany now, or if it is likely to have to deal with them later in regard to the international obligations of the German Empire, it must demand, not peace negotiations, but surrender. Nothing can be gained by leaving this essential thing unsaid.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurances of my high consideration.

URGENT CALLS FOR PHYSICIANS AND NURSES

State Board of Health Begged With Calls From Rural Sections of the State.

From all sections of Kentucky the State Board of Health is being besieged with calls for physicians and nurses to cope with the influenza epidemic, which, according to Dr. P. E. Blackerby, of the board, reached a most serious stage in the rural communities just at the time when it began to show a decided decline in the larger centers.

The sections of the State suffering most, according to Dr. Blackerby, are the Big Sandy Valley, the Harlan coal district and the coal district of Western Kentucky, especially in Ohio and Muhlenberg counties.

The situation in the Bluegrass section is reported as improved, while in the extreme western part of the State the epidemic is raging in the rural communities.

The following telegram was received today by the Board of Health from Dr. C. B. Wilson of Bowling Green, who is doing relief work in Warren county, and is typical of many.

"In territory eight miles long there are 350 cases of influenza, 250 of which are convalescents, and seventy cases of pneumonia, forty convalescents. Fourteen new cases just reported and fourteen deaths today."

"Doctors have been dispatched to Rockport, Ohio county, Hazard and Harlan, but the Board of Health has been unable to supply the demand for nurses, calls for whom are being received from all parts of Kentucky."

A telegram received today from Salyersville, Magoffin county, states that a population of 1,500 is being attended by only one physician, who himself shows symptoms of influenza and who lives six miles from Salyersville.

A message from Burkesville states that the only physician left in Cumberland county is unable to respond to more than one out of each ten calls he receives.

Co-operating with the State Board of Health, the United States Public Health Service has asked that six physicians, designated by the State body, be sent into the needy districts of Kentucky to organize home forces for a systematic campaign to control the epidemic.

The physicians designated and who have already begun their work are: Dr. Walter Byrne, Russellville; Dr. J. A. Shirley, Winchester; Dr. J. C. Locke, Maysville; Dr. D. M. Griffith, Owensboro; Dr. J. W. Kinkade, Ashland, and Dr. E. A. Dick, Louisville.

Dr. Blackerby declared that one thing that had enabled the epidemic to gain such headway was that so many physicians of Kentucky have been stricken with influenza. He added that there had been many deaths in the ranks of the profession, five of which had been reported in the last twenty-four hours.

Another element contributing to the scarcity of physicians, he said, was that more than 700 Kentucky doctors are now in France or in cantonments throughout the United States.

The local situation does not improve in any satisfactory degree, there having been 73 new cases and 5 deaths reported yesterday to Health Officer Locke, with not all the physicians reporting. Most of these new cases were in the county. A number of the cases in this city are improving slowly, and those at the emergency hospital, are getting along nicely.

TO GRAIN AND SEED DEALERS IN MASON COUNTY

Important Communication Received From Cincinnati District Freight Office.

The Chamber of Commerce has received the following communication from the Cincinnati District Freight Traffic Committee and desires to bring it to the attention of all the dealers of grain and seeds in Mason county.

Under Freight Rate Authority No. 1650 the Railroad Administration has authorized the cancellation of all allowances for the elevators in Western classification territory. It is now proposed to cancel these allowances also in official and southern classification territory.
